5. Discussion Items

- Upcoming ELPAC testing- report: The CELDT is no longer being administered after this year. There was a brief explanation of the ELPAC and testing dates given for SS and OG. OG students are required to do the ELPAC practice test. The ESs should email the testing dates and link to the practice tests, which is: www.elpac.org. Shira stressed the importance of students being familiar with the new test format and requirements. Nancy discussed the audio portion being done on a macbook with headphones, along with a small portion of the speaking. The rest of the test is paper/pencil.
- Update on Book Group: Kelly reported that they meet the first Friday of the month, the next date being 2/2/18. It has been expanded to include all students, not just ELs. It requires no preparation and is very enjoyable. Watch for an invitation to be coming.
- Continued discussion/reports on tutoring vendors: parents and students are very happy with A+, as well as Club Z and Home Tutoring Plus. Reach out to Kelly if family is ever not satisfied with their tutoring experience. Kelly explained how to arrange for tutoring. Contact the ES who can also provide the iReady scores.
- Discussion on possible programs for next year/Replace Rosetta Stone? Rosetta Stone seems to be more appropriate for beginning English learners. Perhaps it can be an option along with other programs, possibly Babel or Mango. RS can be accessed at any public library. Kelly said BrainPop is similar to RS. She will condense the information and we can vote.

6. Future Agenda Items (please give suggestions) Review of finalized list of programs, ELPAC feedback, poll for choosing a time for next meeting, possibly in April
